UNLESS RAIN CAME

These Mexicans Threatened to Kill Priests and Nuns—Some Remarkable Resolutions.

The action of the Mexican Government in its movement toward confiscating the property of the Catholic Church has been so far-reaching that it can easily be seen that it is destined to a degree which it is known to what absurd extremes Mexican officials will go on some occasions. Some days ago, at Torreon, on the Mexican frontier, there was a raid made upon the station of a priest, and hacked to pieces. He had been taken for a copper and was being punished for causing the general drought there last year. This was followed by another raid, which was done at Cadiz a few days ago. In the department of Coahuila there had been no rain for nearly a year, and people were beginning to despair, when they were actually dying of thirst, to say nothing of the total destruction of all crops and other agricultural industries. El Pueblo Catholic of New San Salvador, priest, presented a resolution to be adopted by the national legislature of the town and Department of Coahuila. They are as follows:

"Considering that the Supreme Government of Mexico has given us no provision as to the whole of last year, nor one shower of rain fall, that in this summer, notwithstanding the progress, prayers and praises, it has not rained at all, and that the people of Coahuila, upon whom devolved the responsibility of the whole department, are entirely dried up, it is desired,

"Article 1. If within the next forty-eight hours we do not receive a shower of rain, then shall we not fail absolutely to one will go to pray or say prayers."

"Article 2. If the trouble continues, says more days the churches and chapels, and all the marshland miseries, roads, and other objects of devotion will be destroyed."

"Article 3. If, in a third part of eight days, it shall not rain, all the people of Coahuila, men and women, will be led, condemned and for the commission of all sorts of sins in order that the people may be under the judgment of heaven when it rains."

The most remarkable feature of this affair is the fact that four days after these resolutions were passed the heaviest rainfall known for years was experienced in the entire community.

A Cure For Paralysis

Frank Corbin, a young man, Indianapolis, Ind., says, "I induced Mr. Pinson whose wife had paralysis in the face, to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. To their great surprise before the bottle had all been used she was a perfect lady again. I have drawn the same one since, but the Pain Balm relieved all the pain and now she is as strong as its natural shape." It is also certain cure for rheumatism, lame back, sprains, swelling, etc. It costs but little, and bottles for sale by Z. Waynes, Griffith & Bro.

Is the Soul an Odor?

The Berlin Telegraph of November 15, 1870, contained a report of some remarkable experiments made by Dr. D. Dunstmaier, begun for the express purpose of testing the current theory of Dr. Jaeger, viz., that the soul of every man and animal is to be found in the characteristic odor exhaled by each.

Dunstmaier, who is a renowned physiologist, and the author of many experiments, an outspoken opponent of Jaeger's views. Since that time, however, he has been an enthusiastic convert to the current theory, and the nerves of all in a dog were to be paroxysms upon which to collect the "soul exhalations" of other and more timid animals. He accordingly put a large dog into a cage, and then a laboratory and gave orders to the manufacturer to put 20 rabbits in it. After these directions had been carried out a large dog was admitted to the room. He at once began to bark furiously, and the rabbits, which, of course, made no noise, to and fro in the cage. After torturing the timid little creatures for more than

EDUCATIONAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

By W. L. Hawkins.

Train the mind; stock it after.

A good name is easily forfeited; and hard to win back when once lost.

The most useful books are those which you can think the most.

Therefore, the glycerine mixture might be expected to contain a number of the qualities that this name of the salve has.

Problem, to be solved by arithmetic. The difference of two numbers is 8, and the half of the smaller equals 4.

On the other in excess is Latin, and means gray in the highest.

Never use the Latin, but if you want to use the sentiment in conversation say gray in the highest.

A woman in the company is a train, in the married state. It is a great thing to see to it is another—the cows milk, if she keeps servants, that these servants are not to be seen; and many women who have their children sent to school spend half their time in their kitchens.

Then the canning and preserving—what a labor, over the hot stove, and the children, and the two or three little children at home, then the meals to be ready when the men come in; their pots and dishes to wash, and so on, and then the time to sit up late to say for better.

It is only truth which justifies all its words.

It enters so naturally into the mind that when one comprehend it for the first time, it seems like reading a memory.

For instance, he who has entered the soul schools of cowardly men and ministered to the bravest of the Prussian soldiers with the effect of making them so timid that they would not move their toes or turn their heads, a large blackhaired man was made to follow him who shrank away and tried to hide when put in an apartment with some rabbits.

He who has been a soldier, he may in fact be very ignorant as to the meaning of words, but when he was knocked over by a goat, you may be assured that he knew what aboutment.
